Statement of Speaker William J. Howell Regarding David Ramadan's Victory in the 87th House District

RICHMOND, VA – Virginia House of Delegates Speaker William J. Howell (R-Stafford) today issued the following statement regarding the 87th House District election:

“With 100 percent of precincts reporting, the House Republican Caucus is excited to welcome David Ramadan to the House of Delegates. We look forward to working with David, whose victory brings our Caucus up to sixty-eight members, the largest Republican Majority ever in the Virginia House of Delegates,” said Howell.

Last night, Ramadan defeated his opponent Mike Kondratick in a race decided by only 50 votes. A graduate and member of the Board of Visitors of George Mason University, David is the founder of RAMA International, an international consulting business. He has been an active member of the Republican Party of Virginia and the Loudoun County Republican Committee for several years.

“We look forward to welcoming David into our Caucus during the 2012 General Assembly Session. My colleagues and I are confident that David will be a tremendous asset as we work together with Governor McDonnell and the Senate to address the issues important to Virginians.”
